

Where do I Vote?

Most Texas newspapers publish the location of polling places prior to every election.

You may also contact the person that handles the election duties in your county to find out the location of your polling place. If you have your voter registration certificate, it will list your precinct number. When you call, tell the person that answers the phone your precinct number to find out where your polling place is located. Remember, on election day you must vote in the precinct where you are registered. However, during the early voting period, you can vote at any early voting site within the county.
